Educational Corners

Educational Corners are situated next to the exhibition area at hall 4 and poster area at hall 5 on 1st floor.

Simulation-based learning is frequently used in medical education and skills training, especially related to complex technologies like extracorporeal systems. Educational Corner during EuroELSO conference provides a near authentic experience and enhanced learning.

Educational Corner simulations rely on scenarios similar to clinical practice in controlled environment without any negative consequences of an error.

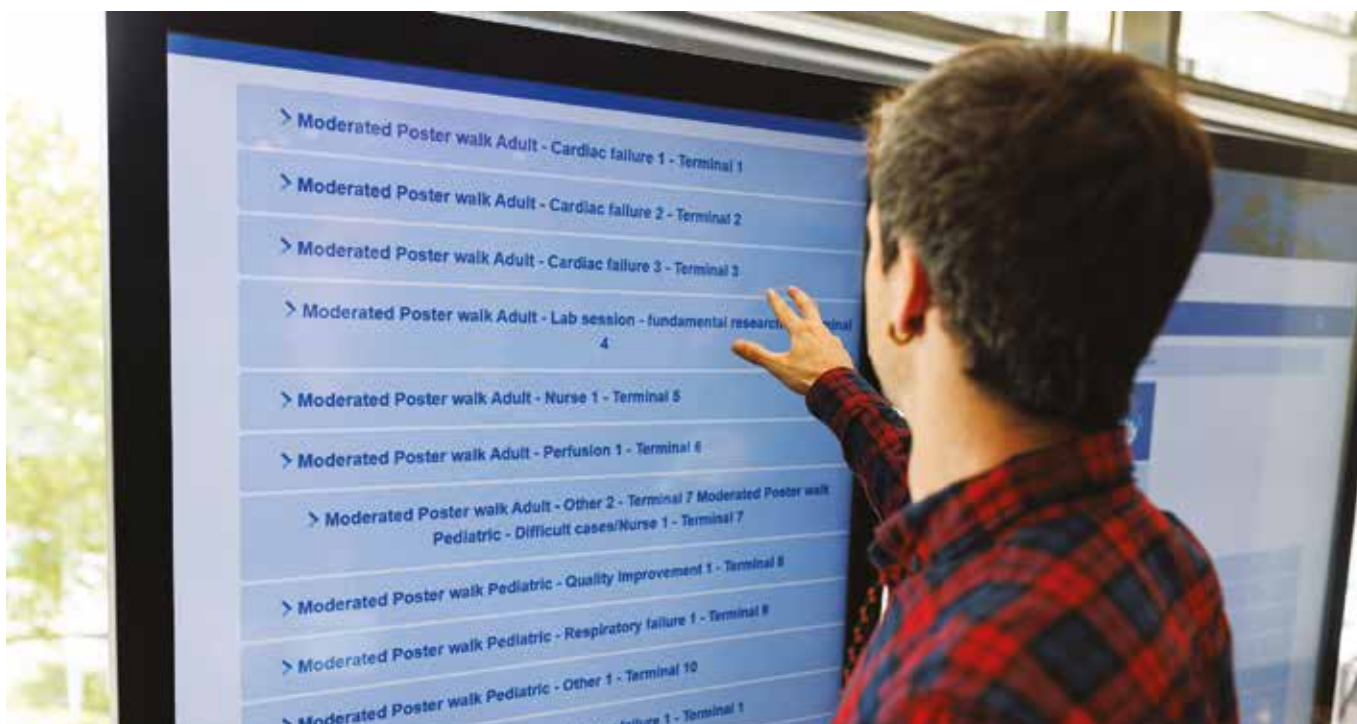

The Educational Corners seats are limited per sessions and available on a first see - first serve basis.

Several Educational Corners are gratefully supported with training equipment of our industry partners.

ECPR Simulation – Cannulation during high-quality CPR by CARL. Academy
27 April: 15:00 – 16:00 and 28 April: 10:30 – 11:30

High quality CPR in case of sudden cardiac arrest is recommended in all guidelines. However, the implementation of high-invasive extracorporeal therapies into the ongoing resuscitation scenario remains still a big challenge. Learn from our CARL. Academy experts how CARL can be effectively implemented into your multi-professional chain of survival.

END-of-life decision-making dURING ECLS (ENSURE) – participate in our online survey

- End-of-life decisions for ECLS patients represent a major challenge for critical care physicians and ICU teams
- Deeper understanding of the ethical issues raised in consideration of possible ECLS
- Assess the current opinions and attitudes regarding ethical controversies in ECLS

Survey is available in all common European languages.

Gain time for life.

For critically ill patients, time is precious. ECMO buys additional time, supporting organ perfusion, while the patient heals or further treatments are applied. This gives caregivers more time to optimize the patient's therapy while easing the body's workload.

Getinge ECMO solutions – gain time for life.
